Demand Response Summary:	Ecobee thermostats include an optional feature called Community Energy Savings which helps the use of cleaner energy and strengthen the grid by reducing demand at peak times. Ecobee provides our utility partners with web tools and APIs which allow customers to accept offers to enroll in Demand Response programs, validate customer eligibility, and dispatch Community Energy Savings events. Based on the needs of the grid, these events can be dispatched to all enrolled thermostats or a targeted group. Demand savings are generated through temperature adjustments at peak times, while customer comfort and satisfaction are maintained through optimized precooling or pre-heating of the home. Event participation statistics are available to the utility to monitor program performance. Community Energy Savings events are voluntary, so customers can opt out at any time.
